

We are opposed to your consideration of preempting state Telephone Privacy Laws in favor of a lower national standard. The law in Indiana has greatly reduced the number of unwanted inclusions into our home via the telephone. We used to use receive at least 10 calls per week, often at very inconvenient times. We now get only several calls per month.

We are concerned about your proposed rule allowing any business that we in the past have dealt with, considering us an existing customer and thus being able to call us at their pleasure.

We thought that the intent of the current Administration is to allow the individual States the right to govern themselves as much as possible, and do not understand your consideration of rules to take away these State's rights.
